

Brendan Malm is a bright new winemaker from Sonoma. While working at a couple of Sonoma wineries, he began making his own wines. After a successful wine competition, Brendan decided to go commercial. Brendan Malm is a one-man show. He not only makes the wines, he also works the vineyards, designs the labels, and delivers the wine to his accounts.

Aromas of wild raspberries and cherry pie intermingle with earth and spice in this expansive effort. A sweet attack is followed by pure, medium-bodied flavors that cascade over the palate.
